'Few Killed' if Rioting Starts In Louisiana

Negroes, Klansmen Both Plan Rallies For Boton Rouge

By JACK OWENS
Associated Press Writer
BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) —

Negroes and Ku Klux Klansmen poised for rallies tonight with the governor warning that if rioting starts "there will be a few people killed real quick" to stop it.

Gov. John J. McKeithen said National Guardsmen "will be supplied with live ammunition if we have a riot, or looting or burning, and will be instructed to shoot quick."

Rival weekend rallies, on opposite sides of this capital city of some 150,000, climax a racial situation arising from a long civil rights march by a group of Bogalusa, La., Negroes. The Negroes resume the march today where they left off Friday—at the Baton Rouge city limits.

Solid Wall
An almost solid wall of military and police might surrounded the 90 marching Negroes Friday as they passed through hostile Ku Klux Klan country, jeered by clusters of whites.

The bustling procession came under an egg barrage in Denham Springs and State Police Maj. Tom Bradley said a charge of dynamite was found beneath a bridge on U.S. 190. "Denham Springs would have been a slaughter pen had the governor not called out the National Guard," said Negro leader A. Z. Young. Two infantry battalions—650 men—backed up 175 state police in the massive show of strength as the columns moved through Livingston Parish. Traffic was detoured around the march.

The Negroes, marching to dramatize their claim of job discrimination in Bogalusa, walked two abreast along the highway, almost hidden by the protective wall around them. Guardsmen in battle dress, with bayonets affixed to their rifles, marched three abreast on each side of them. State troopers, armed with submachine guns, walked single file along the highway shoulders. Mounted police clattered in front and at the rear.

$25,000 Bail Might be Asked

Brown Arrested for Carrying Rifle While Under Indictment

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal agents seized militant Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown as he came out of a friend's Manhattan apartment today and charged him with carrying a .30-calibre automatic carbine on flights between New York and New Orleans while under indictment.

The chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, indicted in Maryland for alleged arson, rioting and inciting to riot, was arrested by Internal Revenue Service agents on a West Side street, briefly questioned and jailed in the Federal House of Detention.

Brown, a preacher of Black Revolution, "was disturbed by it, of course he was," said his lawyer, William Kunstler. "I talked to him over the phone. They made him call collect. He said 'just come down and do something.' The U.S. attorney told me they intend to ask tremendous bail—$25,000."

Go to New Orleans
Brown was scheduled to be arraigned today before U.S. Commissioner Earle Bishop. Stephen Kaufman, Assistant U.S. attorney in charge of the New York office's criminal division, said he would ask for Brown's removal to New Orleans where a complaint was lodged against him late Friday night.

He was charged with violating the federal fire arms act which carries a maximum penalty of five years and a $20,000 fine. Brown, 23, was accused in the complaint with carrying the automatic rifle from New York to New Orleans Wednesday and again in a return flight here Friday.

Brown was in New York for a news conference at which he announced the departure of Government OKs Private Funds For Student Loans

MADISON (AP) — The state Higher Education Aids Board Friday approved plans for establishment of a new program permitting students to borrow money from private institutions to help finance their education. Legislation to permit the guaranteed loan program was passed by the legislature earlier this year and signed into law by Gov. Warren P. Knowles. The law became effective Wednesday.

The board Friday filed articles of incorporation with the state to get the program underway. Under the rules endorsed by the board, insured loans would total a maximum of $1,000 for each undergraduate and $1,500 for graduates.

SNCC's former chairman, Stokely Carmichael, for Hanoi and called on "all black people" to celebrate August 18, the second anniversary of the start of the Watts riots as "Black Independence Day."

'See Aggression'

He said Carmichael had gone to North Vietnam to "see for himself the savage aggression being carried out against that country by the United States... Mr. Carmichael will see for himself the atrocities being perpetrated against the people of Vietnam."

Kunstler said Brown was arrested "outside an apartment that some friend of his has. He uses it. He stays there quite often and they must have known that."

In Washington, the Justice Department said the New Orleans complaint alleged airline personnel saw Brown with the rifle on his flight to New Orleans and two sheriff's deputies observed the weapon in his possession when he later travelled to Baton Rouge by bus.

186 U. S. Missions Flown

3 More Planes Lost in Raids

SAIGON (AP) — Stepped-up air raids on North Vietnam have cost the United States three more warplanes, the U.S. Command disclosed today.

The command revealed the losses by merely announcing a higher total—647—of U.S. warplanes shot down over the North so far in the war. It did not say where or when the planes were downed.

The announcement followed a day in which U.S. pilots flew 186 missions against the North—the second highest daily total so far—but there was no mention of losses in Friday's raids.

Meanwhile, U.S. B52 bombers ripped up more of the A Shau Valley today in their long campaign of trying to demolish a major military base which the North Vietnamese have built inside South Vietnam's northwest border.

A 25-mile road still brings men and supplies into the base through Laos despite more than 50 previous B52 raids aimed at the camouflaged enemy installations and hundreds of fighter-bomber strikes.

Friday was the fourth day this month in which U.S. fliers logged a record or near-record number of missions. The record of 197 was set Aug. 3.

As for losses, the Command often delays reports of a downed plane when the North Vietnamese are not aware the plane was lost, possibly because it crashed far out at sea. Although a military spokesman said no special significance could be attached to the number of missions Friday it was evinced an all-out campaign has been ordered against North Vietnamese supply channels.

The round war remained generally quiet as it has for almost two months but scattered and frequently sharp skirmishes ran up and down South Vietnam. The known casualties from reported actions were nine Americans dead and 99 wounded while the Communist forces suffered 165 dead from infantry, air, artillery and helicopter fire.

"Downstream flooding will increase," the forecaster said, "and residents near the Tanana River should be warned of flood well past record proportions."

New Farm Policy Unveiled by LBJ

Might Save $700 Million

Welfare Changes Aimed at Economy

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sponsors of a tougher approach to federally aided state welfare programs claim it would save the federal government more than $700 million a year within five years—even with greater initial outlays to help put recipients to work.

These claims will help fuel the arguments in the Senate Finance Committee and the Senate itself over the Social Security bill the House passed Thursday, embodying new requirements for welfare programs. Strong efforts are expected to make these less stringent.

When Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, the principal architect of the changes, defended them before the House, his argument dealt not so much with economy as with the need to break what he described as an unforeseen cycle of mounting welfare rolls.

Way of Life

"Is it in the public interest for welfare to become a way of life?" he asked, adding that the House Ways and Means Committee he heads has learned that in some aid to dependent children programs "we are now, in some instances, taking care of the third consecutive generation."

"I have reached the conclusion that this trend has got to be reversed," the Arkansas Democrat said.

He described new require-

Man From Wisconsin Charged With Murder In South Dakota Case

HURON, S.D. (AP) — A 23-year-old Wisconsin prison parolee waived preliminary hearing Friday in municipal court and was bound over for Circuit Court trial on a murder charge in connection with the June 30 slaying of a Minneapolis insurance adjuster.

Murray James Severns Jr., Plainfield, Wis., appeared before Judge Franklin W. Schleuter, who set no bail.

Severns is charged in the death of Loren Ketner, 31, who had come to South Dakota to help process claims resulting from a wind storm June 18.

Bitter feelings have already cropped up on both sides.

"The Jordanian organization let us down badly," said an Israeli interior ministry spokesman of Friday's repatriation.

"It is apparently just not equipped to handle a project of this size."

But Jordanian officials complained that the names of those eligible to cross had been turned in by Israel only Thursday—too late to organize the refugees efficiently.

Most of the first refugees were women, children and bent old men in long robes. This led the secretary of Jordan's refugee committee, Brig. Abdullah Rafee, to comment "It seems the Israelis have selected only the very young and very old and have taken no chances on letting young men return yet."

President Also Announces Unchanged Vietnam Tactic During Formal News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has revealed an observation that his domestic new farm policy while standing program appeared to be found-pat on an old policy for Vietnam.

—On measures to help correct

At his first broadcast-telecast news conference in 5½ months, Johnson said he thinks "the farmers are on the short end of the stick" and should have the right to bargain collectively for better prices for their products.

"Today," the President said, "the farmer gets a smaller percentage of the dollar for the food that he produces for us than in any other period."

"I would very much hope that the administration at some date in the reasonably near future could find some legislation that would give to the farmer a means of bargaining reasonably and collectively as we permit workers to do."

Handle War
And, in a totally different field, Johnson told a Congress rumbly with more complaints, than praise that it has a built-in remedy if it thinks he has handled the Vietnamese war unwisely or improperly.

That would be to invoke a provision for cancellation in a 1964 resolution, adopted after U.S. warships were attacked in the Gulf of Tonkin. The resolution overwhelmingly backed the President in preventing further aggression.

Not since March 9 had a nationwide audience been able to look and listen in on a Johnson news conference from living rooms and rocking chairs across the country.

The conference centered pretty much on Vietnam and to a lesser extent on domestic affairs.

Orderly Election
To the extent American counsel is sought and advice followed, "We are going to do everything we can to see that we have an orderly, free and fair election" in Vietnam, said Johnson.

"But it is not our election... we are not running things," said the President in apparent response to congressional fears that the Sept. 3 South Vietnamese elections may be rigged by the ruling military regime.

As for his present assessment of the Vietnam war, the President said that:

"Our policy in Vietnam is the same; we are there to deter aggression."

Air strikes within 10 miles of Red China do not, in fact, "pose any threat" to that nation, are not intended to widen the war in Vietnam."

Four of his top generals think that what he called the charge that the war is a stalemate "is nothing more than propaganda."

Engage in Combat
—More and more, the enemy "is less anxious to engage our troops in combat," perhaps because "of the losses he has suffered and the position in which he finds himself."

Getting into domestic affairs, many of them feeling the impact of the cost of war, Johnson said.

About half the 100 administration measures have passed Congress and he expects many of the rest to come through in the closing rush. So he didn't seem to be buying a reporter's observation that his domestic new farm policy while standing program appeared to be found-pat on an old policy for Vietnam.

Crash Fatal to Waupaca Man

Thomas Dickinson Dies After Collision In Oshkosh; 5 Hurt

OSHKOSH — Thomas H. Dickinson, 24, route 4, Waupaca, died at 8:20 p.m. Friday of injuries suffered in a two-car crash on State 110, a mile north of Winnebago County Trunk AG in the Town of Winchester.

Five others are being treated for injuries at Mercy Hospital in Oshkosh.

County Coroner Art C. Miller said that Dickinson, a teacher at Fox River Grove, Ill., was visiting his parents in Waupaca. He died of internal bleeding, Miller said.

Dickson was a passenger in a southbound car on State 110 at 8:20 p.m. Friday driven by Frederick P. Thomack, 24, of 335 North St., Waupaca. County Police said the Thomack vehicle braked on the wet pavement behind a car that was turning left into a driveway. Thomack's car skidded, turned and crossed the road into the path of an oncoming car.

The northbound car on State 110 was driven by Alice M. Kurtz, 30, Lincoln, Ill. Passengers in her car were her husband, William F. Kurtz, 30, and two children, Kathy A., 10, and William F. Jr., seven months old.

Mrs. Kurtz and her children were reported in good condition Saturday, and her husband and Thomack in satisfactory condition.

Use a Rainy Day to Make A Saw-a-Log Desk Novelty

BY CAPPY DICK

An empty salt box provides the framework for the "saw-a-log" table ornament shown in Figure 3. The salt box is covered with pieces of bark. The saw is made from cardboard, the blade being painted gray and the handle brown.

Start with an empty salt box and cut a slot in it as in Figure 1 to receive the cardboard saw. Make the saw about 10 inches long (Figure 2).

Collect pieces of bark from dead tree branches. After cutting them to size and fitting them to the salt box, glue them in place, covering the entire box. Glue round pieces of yellow construction paper to the ends of the box and use brown crayon to mark rings on it as in Figure 3.

Rest the saw in the slot. The completed project is sure to attract favorable comments from your friends.

Thief Takes Change At Seymour Golf Club

An undetermined amount of change was taken from a cigarette vending machine and a juke box during a burglary between 1 and 3 a.m. today at Crystal Springs Golf Club, on French Road, just north of Outagamie County Trunk G. near Seymour.

The burglary was discovered about 2 a.m. Outagamie County sheriff's investigators said entry into the club house was gained by forcing the lock on a door.

Investigators said evidence showed the burglars apparently searched other parts of the clubhouse for more money.

Green Bay Community Theater Lights Sky With Moss Hart Play

BY JAMES AUER
Post-Crescent Sunday Editor
GREEN BAY — The Green Bay Community Theater Friday evening stuck "A Roman Candle in the tired face of show business" (to borrow one of the author's more appropriate phrases) and set a match to the fuse.

When the spark reached the powder it did truly "Light Up the Sky" with a nicely paced production of Moss Hart's acidly witty comedy about showtoll at their best — and their worst. With former Appleton resident Bunny Horne holding the directorial reins, and Kay Kirchberg repeating her Altus Theater role of Stella Livingston, the three-act stagepiece successfully introduced area playgoers to the Community Theater's attractive Marx-Lou Rider — quietly new playhouse, at 122 N. Chestnut St. Purchased last year, and extensively refurbished, the former church reflects the Green Bay group's determination to offer a year-round program of a policeman "live" theater to the Fox Valley. "Light Up the Sky" will be "The Players" recently announced 1967-68 season begins Oct. 20 with Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple" — and continues through to spring with "Night of the Iguana," "Once More with Feeling," and "A Man for All Seasons."

"Well on Way" If "Light Up the Sky" is any indication, the group is well on the way toward the realization of a dream shared by many community producing groups — a self-sustaining program of comedies and dramas produced in their own home.

Although the small stage in the former chancel undoubtedly restricts movement to a certain degree, its limitations have been, in the main, surmounted by Mrs. Horne's flexible direction and the efforts of her cast.

In the crucial role of Irene Livingston, a Great Lady of the American Theater who lives the role to a harrowing degree both on-stage and off, Barbara Hill displays a remarkable vocal range and an indisputable star for satire. She is Irene Livingston or Gertrude Lawrence or Tallulah Bankhead or whoever Hart's Target for Tonight may be, and her self-dramatizing, her posturing, her tantrums and her inexplicable emotional crises form the sturdy cornerstone of the show.

"Formidable Galaxy" Revolving about the formidable Miss Livingston is a formidable galaxy of male satirists — her director, Carleton Fitzgerald, played with just the right combination of weepy sentimentality and iron resolve, by Joseph Hill, her producer, Sidney Black, impersonated with a shout and a swagger by Charles Rider, her ineffectual (but comically) husband, amusingly lunched by Art Korpi, and a Playwright Who Got Away, portrayed sensibly and sympathetically by Roger Lawyer.

The female contingent occupying the Ritz-Carlton Hotel suite during the Boston tryout of Miss Livingston's latest vehicle is equally well cast. The able Mrs. Kirchberg, as the actress' mother, extracts just about the last drop of irony from Stella Livingston's lines (and they're some of the best in the show), and Jorja Jensen is a fitting foil as Frances Black, the producer's wife, a rough-cut diamond who is smooth only while sailing about the arena as the star of her husband's ice westbound auto driven by David C. Krueger, 17, route 3, Appleton, who pulled out from a line of cars waiting for a train. Police estimated damage to the two cars at $1,300.

Minor Injuries Bruce W. Nitzke, 20, route 1, Shiocton, suffered minor injuries about 10:15 p.m. Friday when his car left State 187 7 miles north of Shiocton and hit a driveway embankment and overturned. Nitzke told county police he was northbound on 187 rounding a curve and swerved to miss three deer that were on the edge of the road and his car went out of control. Police said his car was demolished.

Andrew C. Dietzen, 18, route 4, Appleton, complained of stomach injuries following an accident about 9 p.m. Friday at State 47 and Burdick Street in Black Creek. County police said that Dietzen was southbound on 47 when his car was struck by a westbound auto driven by David C. Krueger, 17, route 3, Appleton, who pulled out from a line of cars waiting for a train. Police estimated damage to the two cars at $1,300.

How Much Beer Should A College Boy Drink?

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: We have it two boys in college and are concerned over the amount of beer they consume. How much beer can young men drink without damaging their health? — MCG

There isn't, obviously, any hard and fast rule about this, but there are some things to keep in mind.

One is that alcohol is alcohol whether it is whisk in a jigger, gin in a cocktail, any liquor in a highball, or beer or wine.

It isn't generally recognized that the amount of alcohol is approximately the same in a jigger of whisky, glass of wine, a bottle of beer or any of the other forms of drink. Whether it is dilute or concentrated, the alcohol is there.

Cirrhosis of the liver is one of the penalties of too much alcohol, although there are other causes of this disease. This is a fact not easily accepted by the many folks who argue that beer and wine are harmless.

The amount of alcohol consumed is what counts, regardless of the form. True, one can down several drinks of straight liquor in the time that one glass of beer might take, but the total quantity of alcohol is still what counts. One rule of thumb is that if 30 per cent of a person's calorie intake is alcohol, he has a 75 per cent chance of getting cirrhosis.

There are plenty of alcoholics who contend that they aren't "because I drink only beer." But they are And wine? Haven't you ever seen or heard of the "winos" who pass out in alleys? They drink wine because it is one of the cheapest routes to oblivion.

From the standpoint of health, I'd be perfectly happy if nobody drank anything alcoholic until older than college age, but what we prefer and what the college students are going to insist on doing are different things.

As second choice, I would hope that college drinkers understand the truth about alcohol. Some people can tolerate very little alcohol, others can handle more without harm.

But one thing is certain: The fellow who, at college age, begins to pride himself on the amount he can consume is heading for trouble. The trouble may come soon, or it may wait a decade or two, but it will catch up to him.

I've seen it happen to some I went to school with.

So my advice is to take it very easy. Don't make beer a daily habit. Habits grow. They start when we are young. But they grow.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am troubled with an itching scalp. Will Church St., Neenah

CITIZEN SMITH By Dave Gerard

"I know you said you were bringing your boss home to dinner — but — you mean that KID in there. . . !?"

you please name a good cure for this nuisance? — C.J.P.

Here's an example of an unanswerable question — because I don't know what is making your scalp itch. There are many causes.

Is it dryness? Psoriasis? Dermatitis? There isn't any remedy which will necessarily cure an itch, but when you find out what is causing the itch, then it is sometimes becomes a very simple matter to prescribe something that will cure the cause.

In a case like this I would go to a dermatologist (skin specialist) and find the exact cause. It would be a great deal quicker (and doubtless less expensive) than perhaps spending months trying out various remedies on a hit-or-miss basis.

Dear Dr. Molner: I say a man who sleeps in pajamas under an electric blanket or two or three covers should not lounge around for an hour in the morning without a robe and slippers, from a health standpoint. If your reply is in the affirmative it will save me and perhaps others many dollars in lost time and medical bills. — J. D.

But suppose I say, if he's comfortable, there's no danger that I can see? And that is what I say.

Headaches? You can beat them. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent for a copy of the booklet, "How To Tame Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dear Folks: Recently I was talking with a friend of mine whose mother had asked her for years to put her name, address and who to notify in case of an accident, in stitch around the edges so they will hold their shape. These are not only soft for a baby's tender skin, but are easier to handle than a terry wash cloth.

You can also use the entire front or back section of these shirts for little towels. They are an ideal size for small babies and later they are just right for use after shampooing those little heads.

Mrs. J. E. Crooks

Dear Heloise: We made a slot in the garage door for the newsboy to shove our daily paper through when it rains as we do not have a covered porch.

Also when we are away we don't have to bother our neighbors to pick up the papers for us. We always like to have all the papers delivered and enjoy reading the back issue when we get home.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

A reader recently wrote that since there was only two of them she rotated her dishes in order to give them even wear.

I have a better solution that works for me!

I just let all my dishes get dirty and then wash them altogether in the dishwasher.

What could be more even than that?

"Dishwasher" *

Dear Heloise:

If you'd like to keep your little one busy and out of the way while you work in the kitchen, try getting him some of the magnetic puzzles.

They will stick to the refrigerator door and while providing him much pleasure, he will be where you can keep an eye on him.

Sister M. Jordana, Formerly of Appleton, Takes Vows at Racine

Sister M. Jordana, OP, the former Germaine Hietpas, daughter of Mrs. Cornelius Hietpas, route 4, Appleton, pronounced final vows as a sister of St. Dominic Sunday at St. Catherine Convent, Racine.

Dear Heloise: To save the ribbon bows from my showers and wedding gifts, I cut two pieces of nylon net in the shape of a heart. Sewed these together, leaving a small opening in the top, then gathered a narrow ruffle around the edge. I put those pretty bows inside the heart, and stitched the opening together.

I have a beautiful throw pillow for my bed as well as saving those treasured bows.

Mrs. H. Arnold

Dear Heloise:

'Lack of a Cause' and 'Poverty of Spirit' Is Causing Britain's Death

LONDON (AP) — In something like the decline and fall of the Roman Empire, Britain is dying for lack of cause, poverty of spirit and inferior lives now that it is less important in world affairs, an Anglican churchman says.

"The nation seems unable to accept that it is no longer the great power in worldly terms that it used to be and does not seem to be seriously asking itself the question where its true future lies," Canon Douglas Rhymes said in a sermon Sunday at Southwark Cathedral.

"Is not the recent increase in drug taking a sign of the desire to find by artificial means a meaning which ordinary life does not give?" the canon inquired.

Resort Complex Proposed for Green Lake

Pioneer Developers Plan $4.5 Million Hotel-Marina

GREEN LAKE — Developers of The Pioneer Motel in Oshkosh and a proposed new High Cliff resort complex Thursday night unveiled plans for another $4.5 million resort complex that would change the face of Green Lake.

Kenneth Zinzow, president of the corporations that have promoted The Pioneer and the High Cliff Project, showed the Green Lake Planning Commission plans for a 200-unit hotel-marina complex that would include 100 units of condominium apartments and residential developments. The inn would include complete convention facilities, three dining rooms, three cocktail lounges, a ballroom, four swimming pools, tennis courts, shuffle board courts, a toboggan run and shops.

Zinzow asked the city to make several changes in present streets, roads and parks to accommodate the development. He proposed an exchange of Hattie Sherwood Park for the present Norton's Marina and the area adjoining Deacon Mills Park.

Relocate Causeway
He also asked the city to relocate a highway causeway to accommodate a large marina and bathing beach.

Zinzow's organization bought Norton's Marina earlier this year. He said 400 additional acres of lake property are under option to his organization.

Zinzow, president of Norton's Bay Corp., the developer, is also a general partner of The Pioneer and The Abbey at Fontana.

Will Miss College Avenue Dedication

Comedian Bob Hope — the king of the quip — has thanked the City of Appleton for making him an honorary citizen but expressed regrets he cannot be here for the College Avenue dedication.

City Clerk Elden Broehm received a letter from Hope today in reply to a recent council resolution inviting him to be mayor-for-a-day.

"Thank you very much for sending me that resolution from your city council and I certainly wish I could get back there to open up your College Avenue," Hope wrote.

"... But my fall schedule is so crowded that it doesn't look like I'll be able to shake myself loose from this television and picture world to enjoy the event," Hope added.

Appreciates Confidence
At the same time the world-famous entertainer, whose flashy smile and nose profile have won him countless laughs and friends around the globe, said he appreciated the council's vote of confidence.

It seems that some years ago an Appleton judge wrote Hope and called him a "Commie" after the comedian cracked a joke about the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Appleton over the air.

And last fall on a nationwide TV show, Hope during an interview said Appleton was the last place where he wanted to go, or even fly over for that matter.

The council pointed out in its resolution that it considered Hope a top-notch American comedian and regretted any misunderstanding which may have taken place.

Hope said he appreciated being made an honorary citizen, adding, "I hope to visit you sometime."

Hope said he will be in Madison for a big show Oct. 7. "It will be my third or fourth trip there and I always enjoy playing for that particular audience," Hope commented.

"Thanks, again," the comedian concluded, affixing his personal signature to the letter.

Buckley, acting on orders of the city council, contacted Guard officials to see if they still had use for the 18 acres the city donated for the armory project in the city-owned industrial park.

If not, the city wants to attempt to sell it to an existing or new industry.

The national guard has until October, 1968, to build or the property reverts back to the city.

Policeman, Coroner Discover Mailmen Aren't Only Victims

Mailmen aren't the only people who get bitten by dogs. So do coroners and policemen.

Just ask Lt. Lowell Veitch of the Outagamie County police, or Coroner Bernard Kemps. They have the teeth marks, bandages, tetanus shot pinpoints and aches and pains to prove it.

Veitch went to the William Helein home on route 2, Black Creek, Tuesday afternoon to inform Helein that his wife had just been killed in a car-train accident near Center Valley.

Veitch had just gotten out of his squad car when a big dog bounded out, sank his teeth into the policeman's lower left leg, and then bounded away.

Veitch went into the Helein home, and minutes later Kemps arrived. He got out of his car and two dogs ran toward him. Unconcerned, he continued toward the house, but was stopped short by the same large dog which sampled the coroner's lower right leg.

Both men finished their talks at the Helein home and went to a Seymour clinic where they had the wounds checked and were given tetanus shots.

Kemps said Thursday that his leg is still sore, and Veitch, who has nearly his entire lower leg bandaged, indicated he intended to return to the doctor because of the discomfort the wound is causing him.

The dog is being kept under observation

Contracts Virus

WASHINGTON — Hospitalization of U.S. Sen. Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.) Thursday forced postponement of a meeting he had scheduled with Housing and Urban Development authorities on Appleton's water expansion.

Nelson's office announced the senator contracted a virus and was advised by his physician to cancel out meetings and appearances on his heavy schedule.

"The senator should be hospitalized for about three to four days and will be back on the job again," a Nelson aide reported.

He also said Nelson advised that the meeting with top HUD officials in connection with Appleton's request, and subsequent denial of a $15 million water expansion program grant, would be rescheduled for later next week.

Nelson has instructed his staff to prepare a full documentation of the Appleton project and its justification, was disclosed.

Previously, Nelson had indicated he was disturbed over the manner in which the regional office of HUD at Chicago handled the Appleton application, and the reasons finally given for rejecting it.

The senator intends to push for reconsideration of the application

Announcement Forthcoming On Armory

City to be Notified Soon on National Guard Building

An announcement will be forthcoming within a few months on whether the federal government intends to proceed with previously announced — and then shelved plans — to build a new armory at Appleton.

City and Wisconsin National Guard officials met in the mayor's conference room at the city hall Thursday.

The outcome of the Wisconsin National Guard reorganization recommended by the Pentagon may have an impact on any final decision on proceeding with armory construction here.

However, Col. Melvin P. Wang, told Mayor George Buckley and other officials a need existed for a new facility.

Buckley, acting on orders of the city council, contacted Guard officials to see if they still had use for the 18 acres the city donated for the armory project in the city-owned industrial park.

WASHINGTON — Hospitalization of U.S. Sen. Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.) Thursday forced postponement of a meeting he had scheduled with Housing and Urban Development authorities on Appleton's water expansion.

Nelson's office announced the senator contracted a virus and was advised by his physician to cancel out meetings and appearances on his heavy schedule.

"The senator should be hospitalized for about three to four days and will be back on the job again," a Nelson aide reported.

Northeastern Planners OK Projects for Next Five Years

Formation of Watershed Groups Will be Given 'Top Priority'; Community Services Emphasized

Projected plans for the next five years with a strong emphasis on formation of watershed groups, were approved Friday by the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission in its annual meeting at Wautoma.

In approving the program, commission members not only stressed formation of local watershed associations but also okayed an increase of commission service to member communities.

The emphasis on encouraging creation of local watershed groups originally had been scheduled for 1971 and 1972.

This was changed to "top priority," however, after Commissioner R. E. Garrow of Waupaca County said, "If we're going to wait five years, we're not going to have a lot of these watersheds left."

Sediment Dumped

"Some work can be done on the Embarras River," Garrow added, stating that 700 tons of sediment annually are dumped by the Embarras into the Wolf River.

Boyd Kinzley, commission director of natural resources, explained that a date of five years had been set for the encouragement of local associations because "a concerted effort to develop watersheds where our studies show the need is the greatest" would be possible after the studies were completed.

County Park Plan

—Agreed to hold an informal workshop for community and county officials on the comprehensive water and sewer plan for which the commission has received a $120,000 federal grant.

—Decided to investigate the use of insecticides in farming and make recommendations to the legislature.

County Park Plan

—Heard that the first comprehensive park and recreation plan for a county is being drawn up information available now regarding the Embarras.

—Voted to encourage the Outagamie County Board to appropriate funds for a proposed 471-acre county park at Mosquito Hill near New London.

—Learned that Paul will set up about 100 water quality monitor stations in the region to implement his hydrological study.

Recommend Pilot Project

Also recommended was a pilot project on the Bear Creek watershed in Outagamie County.

Other action taken during the meeting included the raising of two activities to division level — community services and planning coordination, aids and program implementation.

They join the present divisions of natural resources, hydrological program, parks and recreation, land use implementation, planning and research and development.

Officials indicated planning questions from communities of member counties are "coming to our attention more and more," necessitating the creation of the two new divisions.

Contract Basis

Planning and research services will be provided for towns, villages and cities on an individual contract basis, according to William E. Morris, commission executive director.

A planning coordinator-research analyst could be hired to provide the services if three or four projects came in at the same time, Morris said.

He added the planner could be paid from the participating communities' funds.

Officials reported adoption of a long-range planning program have his vehicle under control.

20 Per Cent Less

Federal Funds to Drop For Wisconsin Colleges

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Wisconsin's share of federal academic building funds for college and technical school campuses for the coming year will drop to only four-fifths of the past year's program, the Wisconsin Higher Educational Board was told Friday.

Making the prediction was Chalmers G. Norris, of the office of education of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The cutback in state funds is a direct result of a slowdown of spending on academic institutions by the federal government, widely interpreted as being a result of spiraling costs of the war in Vietnam.

80 Per Cent of Program

Federal funds are expected to be approved by Congress at a level about 80 per cent of the existing program, resulting in probable national expenditures of about $300 million for full-fledged colleges and an additional $100 million for two-year centers, community colleges and technical schools.

Wisconsin's share of last year's program was about $10 million. The state is expected to receive about $8.5 million in the coming fiscal year, if the compromise Congressional report is accepted by the entire Congress.

Four-year campus funds — out of which some future financial aid for buildings on the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay and Parkside campuses is expected to be drawn — will be cut back to about 75 per cent of existing levels. Technical school and two-year, non-degree granting colleges support will be maintained at about 85 per cent of existing levels, according to Norris.

Creates Corporation

In other actions, the Board created a special Wisconsin Higher Education Corporation, comprised of the board members, to administer the state's new guaranteed student loan program which will become effective in mid-fall.

Re-elected chairman of the board for the coming year was John Nash of Manitowish. Paul Ipsen of Platteville was elected vice-chairman, defeating the Rev. John Raynor, president of Marquette University, on an 8-4 vote.

WSU-O Given Funds to Study Drop Outs

Program Planned To Recruit Core Area Teachers

MADISON — A $60,000 grant to prevent prospective drop outs from leaving college and to recruit an untapped source of manpower for inner core city teaching needs was accepted for Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh by the Board of Regents of State Universities Thursday.

The grant, to finance the first one year stage of a three stage program that could run for eight years at a cost to the federal government of $500,000, will finance a program headed by David Bowman of the WSU-O staff.

$111,551 Total

The grant was among several totaling $111,551 accepted by the regents for WSU-O, out of a total awarded the nine state university system by the federal government.

The grant given Bowman's program will finance the first phase of a long range program aimed at determining if it is possible to identify students who perform well on college entrance examinations but who in their freshmen and sophomore years give indications of inadequate collegiate performance and tendencies that will lead the students to eventually become college drop outs.

If these students may be identified, the study will attempt to determine if the potential drop outs can be reoriented toward college through personal assistance and attention.

Special Teaching Skills

If they can, the study will then attempt to find out if these students — having made the transition from poor students to good — can become teachers who will have special skills at handling the difficult teaching situations of the inner cores of the nation's central cities, where many students have similar problems on all levels of education.

A later phase of the program will attempt to put the findings into effect in a student teacher training program involving such teaching needs and situations, in what could become a three year phase of the project.

The program is being funded by the U.S. Office of Education.

Other grants accepted by the regents for WSU-O include $49,566 from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity for a Headstart program, and a $1,885 grant from the National Science Foundation.

Use a Rainy Day to Make A Saw-a-Log Desk Novelty

BY CAPPY DICK

An empty salt box provides the framework for the "saw-a-log" table ornament shown in Figure 3. The salt box is covered with pieces of bark. The saw is made from cardboard, the blade being painted gray and the handle brown.

Start with an empty salt box and cut a slot in it as in Figure 1 to receive the cardboard saw. Make the saw about 10 inches long (Figure 2).

Collect pieces of bark from dead tree branches. After cutting them to size and fitting them to the salt box, glue them in place, covering the entire box. Glue round pieces of yellow construction paper to the ends of the box and use brown crayon

Salt Box to mark rings on it as in Figure 3

Rest the saw in the slot. The completed project is sure to attract favorable comments from your friends.

Thief Takes Change At Seymour Golf Club

An undetermined amount of change was taken from a cigarette vending machine and a juke box during a burglary between 1 and 3 a.m. today at Crystal Springs Golf Club on French Road, just north of Outagamie County Trunk G, near Seymour.

The burglary was discovered about 3 a.m. Outagamie County sheriff's investigators said entry into the club house was gained by forcing the lock on a door. Investigators said evidence showed the burglars apparently searched other parts of the clubhouse for more money.

Synod Renames Its President

Rev. Oscar Naumann Given 8th Term at Michigan Convention

The Rev. Oscar J. Naumann, Milwaukee, president of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod, has been re-elected to his eighth two-year term at the biennial convention in Saginaw, Mich.

During his first three terms, Pastor Naumann served both as president and pastor of St. John Church, St. Paul, Minn. The office became a full-time position eight years ago.

Born in Wood Lake, Minn., in 1909, he was graduated from Northwestern College, Watertown and three years later, from Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary, Thiensville.

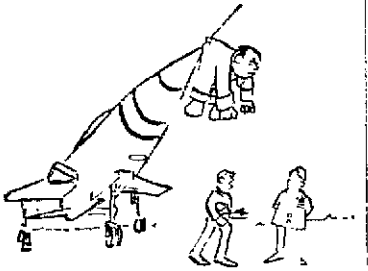

From 1934 to '36 he served on the Northwestern faculty and from 1936-40 he held a pastorate in Ohio. For the next six years he was a professor at Dr. Martin Luther College in New Ulm, Minn.

Other highlights of the convention, included the presentation of six essays in commemoration of the 450th anniversary of Reformation and an announcement of publication of a new, three-year Sunday school course.

The second full-time civilian chaplain to serve members of the synod stationed overseas was also assigned. Wisconsin Synod has declined, since a decision in pre-World War II days, to participate in the government's chaplaincy program.

The synod is composed of 908 congregations in 27 states and Canada.

'Underground Church' Seen Developing in United States

Joint Concerns and Worship Crossing Denominational Lines

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Spontaneous, fluid and unplanned, a so-called "underground church" is developing today in American Christianity.

The descriptive label comes from various Protestant and Roman Catholic observers, who cite evidence of a spreading growth of religious alignments and activity outside regular ecclesiastical organizations. It is seen most extensively among younger Christians—clergy members and nuns as well as laymen—in cities across the country.

It often comes about through some jointly shared concern, such as poverty, peace or civil rights, but also involves common devotions and study, cutting across denominational lines, on campuses and in neighborhoods. "Private ecumenism," it has been called. Also "secular ecumenism," "anonymous ecumenism" or "rebellious ecumenism."

Rebellion Underneath

Using the latter term, the Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Smith, a Methodist and executive secretary of the U.S. Conference of the World Council of Churches, says a "significant element of rebellion" underlies it.

"This 'rebellious' ecumenism is rooted in two strong and strangely interrelated currents of public concern," he says. "One is a dissatisfaction with present church structures; the other is an enormous concern about religious beliefs."

A Roman Catholic layman, Donald J. Thorman, writing in Overview, an assessment of church trends published by the Thomas More Association, says that an "informal, unofficial church" is developing alongside the official church.

"The rapid proliferation of such underground church communities is such that the non-institutional church is fast assuming the characteristics of a social movement within some segments of American Catholicism," he says.

Stimulated by Frustration Thorman, publisher of the National Catholic Reporter in Kansas City, Mo., says frustration at delays in reforms implied by the Second Vatican Council has stimulated the "underground, noninstitutional church," with its "own faithful, clergy, liturgy and morality."

He lists examples brought to his attention in which clergy and laity get together in private

Wisconsin Employment Hits All-Time High

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's total employment jumped to an all-time high of 1,797,900 workers at mid-July, the Department of Industry, Labor and Human Relations said Thursday.

The 12,600 increase was due to a hike in farm employment as weather conditions improved. Unemployment declined slightly during July and was put at 75,400.

homes for "Eucharistic happenings"—Bible reading, discussion and communion.

He said an increasing number of priests say "they have suddenly discovered something bigger than the institutional church—Christianity—and it has changed their lives."

A much-traveled Episcopal clergyman, the Rev. Malcolm Boyd, known for his ministry beyond church boundaries, calls the trend a "nameless revolution" by committed Christians concerned about human needs.

"Ignore Official Structures" "These people... ignore official structures and hierarchies," he says. "They regard Protestant-Catholic reunion as having already taken place. Their fellowship includes priests, pastors, laymen, nuns and even many Jews."

Many participants in these ad hoc groups or cells also take part in regular parish life. Others do not.

New types of organized congregations have resulted in some places. One in Winston-

Salem, N.C., was set up by Quakers, Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterians in a Negro area storefront to aid community development.

The Rev. Gregory Baum of Toronto, Ont., a Catholic scholar who lectures widely in this country, says many Christians are finding that traditional institutional organizations "no longer adequately promote human life."

Course for Restlessness

"This is the deep cause for the restlessness in the Catholic Church," he says, but he adds that it is the living experience of people that will give shape to new organizational forms that will better serve the future.

Dr. Rosemary Ruether, a Catholic philosopher, writes in the Ecumenist that in the "flux and mobility of modern life," Christians find "themselves holding on to a commitment, without natural relationship to any parochial structure."

She says the university is an apt setting for this "free floating Christian community, surpassing traditional lines of separation," but that the civil rights movement and other causes also have contributed to it.

The phenomenon also has come in for some sharp criticism.

Deplores "Elite Religion"

The Rev. Jean Danielou, a French Jesuit theologian, deplores what he terms a drift away from the institutional church by those who would turn Christianity into an "elite religion" for the few with almost no organizational form.

"The tragedy right now occurs if we admit that we are interested only in avant-garde communities in Christianity, and then sacrifice that tremendous reality, the mass of Christian people," he writes in the Critic, a Chicago bimonthly published by the Thomas More Association.

The "mass of Christian people is a dead weight, and very often a scandal to the unbeliever" in their complacency, he says, but Christianity should "be shared by the greatest possible number of people, with all the risks that are involved" in doing so.

"A church which became a church of the elite would be simply a caricature of what Jesus intended," he adds.

Actually the program in which two million needy Ameri- cans participate is living on bor- rowed time now.

Authority to appropriate mon- ey for the program, started in 1964 to help the needy get more food, expired June 30 but Con- gress granted stop-gap approval for it to continue at present lev- els through this month.

But the dispute between the House and Senate over propos- als to extend its life has not been settled.

The House version would pro- vide a $195 million ceiling for the year which started July 1. The Senate set this at $200 mil- lion, then provided $225 million for the second year and $250 million for the third. These amounts would be subject to lat- er appropriations.

Under the program, eligi- ble families can exchange money they normally spend for food on an allotment of coupons, which can be used to purchase more

Prices Decrease Slightly for Food In Viet Capital

SAIGON (AP) — After an in- flationary trend that had seen food prices jump 12 per cent in one month, food prices fell in Saigon last week by an average three per cent, economic sources said today. Over-all prices were down 27 per cent for the week.

There was no immediate ex- planation for the drop in prices. The price increases over the past several weeks had been at- tributed to Viet Cong attacks on roads into Saigon from Dalat, the main vegetable-growing area, and from the Mekong del- ta, South Vietnam's rice bowl.

Viet Cong tax collectors were reported operating once again on Route 20 from Dalat and it was thought the Communists were letting commercial traffic through once again so they could collect more taxes.

The inability of traffic to move on the road boosts prices in Saigon more than Viet Cong taxes, officials said.

Regents Expected to Pick Heads Of Three State Schools Sept. 29

MADISON (AP)— Three state universities will start classes without presidents next month.

Regents are expected to name their choices to fill the vacan- cies at River Falls, Stevens Point and Whitewater at their next meeting Sept. 29.

A special committee spent two days interviewing candidates be- hind closed doors before the regents' monthly session here Thursday.

Eugene R. McPhee, director of the state university system, said he expected the final selec- tion to be made in September.

Interim presidents are now in charge of the campuses at Stevens Point and Whitewater, and another is due to be named Sept. 1 when River Falls President Eugene H. Kleinpell, 64, retires.

Stevens Point President James H. Albertson was among three Wisconsin educators killed in an airplane crash in South Vietnam earlier this year. Whitewater President Walker D. Wymann re- signed.

McPhee said about 74 persons had been considered for the three posts. About 25 were in- vited for eventual interviews, he said.

At least one leading prospect was lost this week when Dr. Richard Bailey, 46, president of Northland College at Ashland, was tapped as the new president of Hamline University in Minne- sota.

Top officials said Bailey had been under consideration to head one of the Wisconsin universities until Wednesday when Hamline named him first

Rescued Youth Recovers Feeling In Arm and Foot

WILLIAMSON, W. Va. (AP) — An itchy foot is good news to 15-year-old Leonard Boyce.

Young Boyce trapped for nearly 24 hours in a well cave-in at nearby Lenore, Monday asked his mother, Mrs. Ben Boyce, to "scratch the bottom of my foot."

It was the first time he had realized any feeling in his right leg since he was pulled from the well Saturday.

Hospital authorities added that some feeling has returned to his right arm, which also was numbed by the tons of rock and dirt that collapsed on him as he was inspecting the well for cleaning.

Leonard, one of 11 children, climbed down the well on an odd job to earn money for school clothes. His family is on relief.

While he was resting com- fortably in a hospital here, a "Leonard Boyce Fund" continu- ed to grow.

The well has been bulldozed over with dirt and rocks

Fewer People Go to California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The rush of humanity to Cali- fornia eased a bit in the last year, but the nation's most pop- ular state still grew by nearly 400,000 residents—to an estimat- ed 19,535,000.

The midyear estimate by state experts put California at roughly the same population as the entire nation of Yugoslavia. State Finance Department offi- cials predicted today that Cali- fornia will pass the 20 million point in about one year.

Earlier forecasts projected the population to 20 million by next January, but the rate of in- crease dropped more than ex- pected during the past two years.

"I knew what it was," Kilgore said. "It has a feel like nothing else."

Kilgore said he returned the boots to the woman who had left them with him a week ago at a barber shop, along with what he had found in the toe: a roll of thirty-five $20 bills

Your Problems

Child's Emotional Problems Result of Extreme Insecurity

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hate to admit that a three-year-old child has me over a barrel, but I am completely defeated.

The man I married was left with this youngster. Jim's wife walked out when the boy was six months old. Jim's mother look the boy for a year and then Jim hired a housekeeper. When I married Jim I was thrilled to be a mother to this child. Now I'm a nervous wreck.

The child chews holes in everything, breaks toys, de- stroys furniture, refuses to play with other children, won't watch anything but adult TV programs and insists on going everywhere we go.

I have tried to reason with the boy but he acts as if he doesn't hear me when I speak to him. I have explained that his real mother wouldn't cook for him or his daddy, that she didn't love him as I do and that she finally ran away and left him.

Jim says the boy realizes I am not his real mother and that is why he refuses to accept me. Please tell me how I can be a real mother to this boy. — Wabash Blues

Dear Wabash: You need outside help and fast. The boy is frightfully insecure, and you haven't helped matters by telling him his real mother didn't love him and that she ran away from him.

Have the child's pediatri- cian check the child's hearing, his metabolism — the works. Then learn where to take the boy for evaluation. This youngster has emotional prob- lems. You cannot handle him alone.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I come from an average Ameri- can middle class family. We ate off oilcloth and mismatched dishes. Mom never bought glasses. We used jelly and cheese jars. She was a good mother and I am not criticizing her, just stating facts.

When I married, I decided to do things nicer than my mother — not because I wanted to put on the dog but because I believe people should uplift themselves if they can. My married sisters are still setting their tables like Mom — jelly glasses and sometimes newspapers instead of oilcloth. I am not criticizing them, either. I say, "To each his own."

Next month two nieces are getting married. Their mothers (my sisters with the newspa- pers) have suggested that I buy a place setting of china or a setting of sterling silver for wedding gifts. The china is $50 a place setting. The silver is $62. I am in favor of people bettering themselves, but don't you think this is a lot of nerve?

— Uncertain Kin

Dear Kin: It was only a suggestion, and you can ignore it. As for "nerve," as one who believes in "uplift- ing" you should be happy that the younger generation plans to do things a little nicer than their mothers did.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read a letter in your column from a teen-ager. You answered: "I will be happy to listen to you any time you want to unload. That's what I'm here for."

Your answer touched me so that I cried. How wonderful to know there is somebody in this world a kid can count on. Yes, I know there are psychiatrists and counselors that will help, but you are more real. Thank

A High-Spirited, High Stepping chorus line adds verve and Broadway glamor to the Attic Theatre production of "Guys and Dolls," opening tonight for a two-week run at Lawrence Music-Drama Center. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. every night except at 7:30 p.m. Sundays. From the left in the night club chorus are

'Flipper' Befriends a Manta Ray

6:30-7:30 Channels 4-5 — Producer Ivan Tors continues to make Flipper a delight for nature lovers and particularly amateur ichthyologists, as well as the children. Flipper has a new friend, a manta ray which is like saying Rover has a new friend, an elephant. The manta glides through the water with wing-like fins sometimes reaching a spread as wide as your house and with a yawning mouth that could swallow a kitchen table. Flipper's friend is a bit smaller, but is nevertheless the first manta ever caught and trained. The program is worth achievement alone. (CR)

7:30-8:30 Channels 2-7-12 — The part of a contortionist on Mission: Impossible is not only highly unusual for singer Eartha Kitt but also quite ideal. The role calls for a lady who is little, lithe and lively, which well describes Miss Kitt. In the story, a defector steals nuclear secrets and takes refuge in a foreign embassy. To get to him and the papers, MI agents get little Eartha to agree to infiltrate the

7:30-8 Channels 4-5 — Is she or isn't she is the question on Get Smart and the query has nothing to do with her, or his, hair. Agent Charlie Watkins is a master of disguise and is assigned to get a job as a waitress in Washington's Pussycat Club. (CR)

8-10 Channel 5 — "40 Pounds of Trouble" is heavy with an over-worked comedy situation on Saturday Night at the Movies. Tony Curtis plays one of those soft-hearted sharpies, a small spender who operates a Nevada gambling casino. His biggest fear is California — home of his ex-wife who wants her alimony checks. It takes Clair Wilcox, a bundle of coyness and the romantic pushing of Suzanne Pleshette to lead him back to the Golden Bear State and Disneyland. (CR)

8:30-9:30 Channel 11 — 10:30-11:30 Channel 9 — Ever since its debut telecast Piccadilly Palace has benefited highly from the presence of Millicent Martin and tonight the program rewards her (and itself) by giving most of it to her. The lovely lady serves as hostess, and gets in on most of the acts, singing, dancing and clowning. With guests Matt Monro, Bruce Forsyth and Sheila Bernette she shows her fine versatility (C)

They'll Do It Every Time

No 'Injury' Comments

BY JAMES R. POLK
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The view of the game depended on the vantage point.

To George Halas, the Chicago patriarch whose Bears were belted 18-0 by Green Bay: "The Packers were in midseason form and they looked as good as last year, if not better."

As for Vince Lombardi, taskmaster for the defending titlists of all of pro football: "We're not ready to play."

The coach refused to make any comment about the possibility of an injury to quarterback Bart Starr, the most valuable player in the NFL last year.

"We have no injuries. You know that," said Lombardi as a matter of policy.

However, Starr's chest and left side were swathed in tape after the game and his right thumb was heavily bandaged.

The normally peerless performer missed his first eight passes, fumbled three times and left the game early in the second half. Starr credited the Bear defense and insisted he wasn't bothered by any physical problem, but eluded any detailed questioning after the game.

Conigliaro Out 3 or 4 Weeks

BOSTON (AP)—What happens to a ball club, such as the Boston Red Sox, when it loses a slugger like Tony Conigliaro while in a dogfight for the pennant?

The Red Sox, only three games behind first place Minnesota in the American League, are going to find out while Conigliaro recuperates from a fractured left cheekbone.

The 22-year-old outfielder was hit just below the protective batting helmet by a fast ball thrown by Jack Hamilton of the California Angels and carried from the field on a stretcher in the fourth inning of the Red Sox' 3-2 victory Friday night.

Conigliaro was taken to a nearby hospital, where X-rays disclosed the fracture. He also suffered a severe nasal hemorrhage and hemotoma of the left side of the scalp.

"He'll be kept under close observation for 48 to 72 hours," Dr. Thomas Tierney, the Boston team physician, said. "He'll be out at least three or four weeks. We'll know better after the observation period."

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A high school football player suffered a fatal heart seizure due to intense activity during football practice Friday, the Allegheny County coroner reported.

William Heinsbert, 15, of Avonworth High School, died about two hours after being rushed to a suburban hospital.

The coroner said Heinsbert became confused and dazed after running around at practice

Conigliaro Knocked Unconscious, Out For Three Weeks

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The only hit the California Angels could make for 6 1-3 innings Friday night was one by their pitcher and it's still got the Boston Red Sox plenty worried.

Conigliaro was rushed to the hospital where the diagnosis was a cracked cheek bone, severe nasal hemorrhage and three weeks out of the line-up. The first two will bother Tony, but the Red Sox, still fighting for the American League pennant, are sure to feel the effects of the latter.

Gary Bell stopped California without a hit until with one out in the seventh inning, Jimmie Hall hit his 14th homer over the left-field screen. Hall followed with another homer in the ninth.

Bell led the Boston hitting attack, too, connecting for a double and a run-scoring single. Rico Petrocelli tripled in another run and scored on a bad relay throw to the plate by Jim Fregosi.

Packer Coach Lauds Defense; Bays Cite Concannon's Speed

BY LEN WAGNER
Post-Crescent News Service
MILWAUKEE — "The Packers are in mid-season form."

You can take George Halas' word for that . . . if you want to believe George Halas. Few of the 47,126 fans on hand in Milwaukee County Stadium Friday night would believe the kindly Papa Bear despite the 18-0 Packer conquest of his tamed grizzlies.

Defensively, the statement may contain a smattering of sincerity. After all, the Pack held the Bears to just 150 yards and no points. But offensively, the Packers gained only 157 yards and managed only one touchdown.

Vince Lombardi, who unwittingly took exception to Halas' words, made his feelings plain, though he managed a grin in the process, after the game.

Hustle on Defense
"We had a great deal of hustle on defense but we stunk up the joint on offense," the head tactician declared.

Packer Defense, Chandler Star in Win Over Bears

Don Kicks Three Field Goals; Grabowski Scores Only TD as Green Bay Posts 18-0 Victory

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent News Service
MILWAUKEE — Jet-like Jim Grabowski was a man of distinction in bulging County Stadium Friday night.

The youthful University of Illinois immortal was the only member of the world champion Packers or Chicago's Bears to canter across the goal line in their annual collision for Shrine charity, in which the Bays stopped the Bruins 18-0, to edify a record, partisan house of 47,126 customers.

And Grabowski's contribution, though welcome, did not come until well into the fourth quarter. Until that juncture, the Pack was nurturing an 11-0 lead, compounded on three field goals off the valuable right foot of placement artist Don Chandler and a rare safety, engineered by mountainous Ron Kostelnik.

So miserly was the Bears' defense, which only nine days earlier had yielded 37 points to the Washington Redskins, that the Packers had to be content with a net of 157 yards, their lowest total since being held to an aggregate of 65 in a 12-7 loss to the Detroit Lions in 1965.

The Packers were even more niggardly, although this hardly qualifies as a surprise, enroute to forging their seventh victory over the monsters of the midway in the Shrine series under Vince Lombardi's direction.

Make Life Hectic
Making life hectic for starting quarterback Rudy Bukich and two successors, Jack Concannon and Larry Rakestraw, the

Less Charitable
The Packer defense, it might be added, was even less charitable with the Bears' signal callers, hurling messrs Bukich, Concannon and Rakestraw eight times for losses totalling 84 yards.

dipsy-doodling. Every time he moved out for a sweep, he had four or five Packers strung out with him. Only once did he break away for a 21-yard burst early in the game. Take that away from his total and he had 21 yards in 10 tries.

"First of all you've got to be lucky," defensive Capt. Willie Davis said of the Sayers problem, so delightfully solved on this night. "Then you have to gang him. No one or two players can handle him. It has to be a team effort, we're convinced of that."

Middle linebacker Ray Nitschke, calling the Bear bullet a "terrific runner," put it this way: "You have to contain him in the defensive perimeter."

Tackle Ron Kostelnik put his finger on the success of the containment, "you have to have pursuit so when he cuts back you have somebody waiting for him. That's what we did tonight."

The defense also met up with a latter-day Fran Tarkenton in the person of Jack Concannon, apparent No. 1 contender for the Bear quarterback post, but kept him under a blanket of green too. Concannon, late of the Philadelphia Eagles, managed only two yards in five plays though on one occasion he circled back from the line of scrimmage at the Packer 40 to his own 34, a total of 26 yards, before turning back upstream and padding to the Packer 41 for a loss of just one yard.

"He's a little different than Tarkenton," first hand observer Henry Jordan opined. "He runs the rollout, though he looked like Tarkenton that one time when he ran all over the field. I'd say, though, that Tarkenton is quicker but this guy is faster. When he puts it in second, he's fast."

Kostelnik agreed. "He likes to run. When he starts running, he's going to run. He's not looking for the pass. He's an excellent runner and when he starts heading upfield, he's fast . . . I mean fast."

Halas also noted that "we have plays for him to run . . . Turn to Page 7, Col. 7

Chuters Can Field All-Veteran Lineup On Offense in '67

14 Lettermen Back; Waupaca Will be First Foe Sept. 1

LITTLE CHUTE — Blessed with 14 lettermen and a promising crop of underclassmen, football drills for the 1967 campaign were opened this week by head coach Avitus Ripp of Little Chute St. John High School.

Ripp, in his second season as mentor for the Chuters, has a squad of 53 candidates currently undergoing 2-a-day workouts.

Semi-Pro Favorite Honolulu and Fairbanks Win

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Bill Lee of Fairbanks, Alaska, made his pitching chores easier by doing some heavy hitting Friday night in the National Semipro Baseball Tournament.

Fairbanks beat Ashley, Pa., 8-2 and Lee had to pitch only seven innings because of the six-run lead rule. To get that lead, he drove in five runs with a home run and a bases-loaded triple.

The tourney favorite, Honolulu, beat Edinburg, Tex., 4-3.

Red Hot Cardinals Whip Houston for Seventh Straight

Second-Place Braves, Reds Fall Another Game Off Pace

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The vise-tight pennant race so long a trademark of the National League has been only a hazy memory this August, and the St. Louis Cardinals seem determined to keep it that way.

The red-hot Cardinals spun off their seventh straight victory Friday night, whipping Houston 5-3 on Steve Carlton's six-hitter. The victory ballooned the Cardinals' league lead to 11½ games.

St. Louis has shattered the race with a torrid 13-4 pace this month. They led by just 3½ games as the month began, but won five straight games and have been just about unstoppable ever since.

Carlton struck out 11 Friday night and didn't allow a hit after the sixth inning. Julian Javier and Mike Shannon handled the hitting, each smashing a home run and driving in a pair of runs.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago tripped Philadelphia 3-1, Pittsburgh pounded New York 7-2, San Francisco stopped Cincinnati 3-1 and Los Angeles downed Atlanta 5-1.

Shannon's fourth-inning homer was the first hit off Houston's Mike Cuellar. After Tim Lincecum reached first on an error, Javier unloaded and the Cardinals had a 3-0 lead.

Bob Aspromonte's two-run double rocked Carlton in the sixth, but the young left-hander settled down and did not allow another hit. The victory ran his record to 11-6.

Rookie left-hander Jim Ellis won his first major league game and halted a four-game Chicago losing streak as the Cubs dropped the Phillies.

Beat Ex-Teammates

Ellis, recalled from Tacoma August 10, worked into the seventh inning before giving way to Chuck Hartenstein. Glenn Beckert drove in two Chicago runs as the Cubs beat ex-teammate Larry Jackson.

Bob Veale hurled a seven-hitter and Willie Stargell reached Forbes Field's distant right field roof for the second time this season as Pittsburgh pounded the Mets.

Stargell's fourth-inning homer — his 17th of the year — was only the 12th to go over the roof in Forbes Field's 59-year history. Stargell is the first player ever to put two in that sector in one season.

Ray Sadecki hurled a six-hitter and Jesus Alou lined four hits and drove in two runs as the Giants dropped the Reds.

Willie Mays' fifth-inning single snapped a 1-1 tie and Alou's fourth hit of the game brought in another Giant run in the eighth as San Francisco beat Milwaukee 5-4.

Low Johnson slammed two home runs and Don Drysdale won his first game since July 15 as the Dodgers sunk the Braves.

Johnson connected in the first and fourth innings against loser Deny Lemaster and then walked and scored in the Dodgers' three-run wrapup rally in the sixth.

games. New York and Minnesota split a two-night doubleheader 1-0 and 3-4, Washington edged Kansas City 7-6, Detroit stopped Cleveland 4-0 in a rain-shortened affair and Chicago split with Baltimore, winning 3-1 before losing 8-2.

Joe Pepitone drove in a run with a single in the first inning of the Twins-Yankees opener and Steve Barber made it stand up the rest of the game, shutting out the Twins on six hits.

Hits Pinch Homer

The Yanks were winning the nightcap 3-2 behind Fred Talbot's five-hit pitching, when Rich Reese turned things around with a two-run pinch homer in the ninth. Harmon Killebrew drove in two runs with sacrifice flies.

Tim Cullen's three-run homer in the ninth inning boosted the Senators past Kansas City. Jim Hunter and Ken Harrelson each had two runs batted in for the Athletics, and Paul Casanova hit a three-run shot for Washington.

Eddie Mathews drove in a run in his debut with Detroit, and Mickey Lolich stopped Cleveland on four hits before the rains came. Mathews' RBI came on a single in the second inning as he started at third for the injured Don Wert.

The first game at Chicago seemed as if it might never start — a two-hour rain delay slowed things considerably — and the second game seemed as if it might never end. The final out was registered at 1:36 a.m. CDT.

Pete Ward's two-run homer was the deciding factor in the opener and Curt Bleafly's three-run homer keyed a five-run Baltimore third in the nightcap.

Packers Defeat Bears In Shrine Game, 18-0

Anderson burst into the open with the second half kickoff and scampered 60 yards to the Bear 30 before being shunted out of bounds by Roosevelt Taylor.

'Fairly Short Kick'

Later, reviewing that dazzler before his locker, Andy explained, "It was a fairly short kick and I had a couple of good blocks to the outside. I shot out to the side and saw the safety man between me and the goal. I knew that somebody was behind me and I didn't want to fake and let him catch me, so I decided to try to get by the safety."

After one first down, the Packer push foundered and Chandler came off the bench to drill home a 37-yarder with only 3:15 gone in the quarter.

Passes to Grabo

Ironically, the Packers, who had squandered two better opportunities, drove from their own 14 to trigger Chandler's second goal. The major item was a 39-yard Starr to Grabowski collaboration, which carried the Bays to Chicago's 47.

"I was a delay receiver going outside on the play," Grabo, who momentarily appeared to be away, informed "The linebackers went in and I was just open."

"I don't know," he added soberly, "Whether I threw so many fakes that I faked myself, or what it did look for a second like I had a chance to go a long way."

After that sparkling maneuver, longest gainer of the night for the Pack, Donny Anderson was held for no gain. A Starr-to-Marv Fleming pass produced eight yards and Elijah Pitts added one, leaving a fourth-and-1 situation.

Re-enter Chandler, who this time rifled a 45-yarder between the towering yellow uprights at the 3:06 mark.

These were Green Bay's final first half points, but the Bears threatened before the intermission when burly Dick Butkus recovered a Starr fumble on the Packer 29 with Concannon at the controls, they registered one first down. Concannon acquiring the last five yards with a quarterback draw, but Tom Brown spared the Pack further embarrassment by intercepting Jack's first pass of the "drive" on the 12 and running it back to the 12.

It appeared that the champions might reverse that low scoring pattern in the final 30 minutes when the explosive lems as he was victimized three times Roy Radmaker, who saw his 10-game hitting streak come to an end, fanned twice.

Center fielder Mike Koritko, the seventh man in the order with a .203 batting average, provided the entire offensive punch the Hawks needed as he drove in all three runs with an inside-the-park homer and two singles.

Cooper, the ML's No. 2 ERA pitcher, was about the only bright spot for the Foxes although suffering his third loss of the season and first since June 4 against nine wins. He displayed excellent control most of the time with a sharply breaking curve as he matched his season high with 10 strikeouts. He allowed only one walk but was tagged for 10 hits.

Cooper accounted for Appleton's only marker when he nailed a high fast ball into a stiff breeze for a home run leading off the fifth. It was his second run of the year.

Waterloo tallied its first run in the second frame. With one out, Jim Gruber lined a shot just inside of the first base bag that rolled against the foul fence in right. Foxes right fielder Karl Simon, thinking the ball had been foul, left the ball and started back to his position. When he realized it was in play, Gruber was digging for third with a stand-up triple. Koritko followed with a single to right.

Waste Chance

Appleton had a golden opportunity to score in the bottom of the inning as a hit batsman, a single and a walk loaded the bases with one out, but Cooper popped up and Ortiz fanned to end the threat.

In the fifth, Koritko led off with a hard shot to left. "Deacon" Jones attempted to make a play on the ball but it got by him and rolled to the fence allowing Koritko to circle the bases.

Cooper matched the feat with the third quarter "I had my hand on Concannon's jersey," Kos reported with a chuckle. "And I was falling I didn't want to let him go, so that's how it happened to crack the whip with him."

Shortly thereafter, a badly rushed Rakestraw fired in desperation and opportunist Roy Nitschke waylaid his pass, returning it five yards to the Bear 33.

Zeke Bratkowski wasted little time taking advantage, pitching a 28-yard strike to rangy Boyd Dowler down the eastern sidelines for a first down on the 5.

Pitts next swept right to the 1, then was held for no gain before Grabowski, slung over left tackle, shrugged off the Bears' Rufus Gentry and barged into the end zone at 6:59. Chandler added the 18th and final point.

The Bears swept to the Packer 9 with the following kickoff, safely by dint of Brian Piccolo's running and Rakestraw passes to little Johnny Morris but huge Jim Weatherwax burst through to hurl Rakestraw for a 5-yard loss to slow the advance and the Bear quarterback was off target with two subsequent pitches into the end zone, intended for Morris and Duane Allen, respectively.

rollouts. But some of the other times tonight his pass protection just broke down."

The one time Concannon did decide to pass after buzzing around with third down on the Packers 18, he fired the ball right into the waiting arms of Bay back Tom Brown to squelch a promising drive.

All together, the Packers dropped the Bear quarterbacks eight times for 84 yards and one other time they hurried Larry Rakestraw into throwing a wobbler that dipped into Nitschke's hands for an interception.

"We try to keep them from getting the big run," Davis said. "They may punch through us for some yardage but we cut off the big play. This forces them to handle the ball more and maybe make a mistake."

Kostelnik who personally accounted for two points on a safety when he manhandled the rambling Concannon near the goal line by spinning him around and flung him to the turf laughed about the incident later. "I just grabbed him, got his jersey and then hung on," he said when Concannon crashed, the ball was dislodged and it squirted backwards over the goal and then out of bounds for the safety.

Don Chandler, who appears to have snapped back from a 1966 slump, didn't want to get too enthused over his performances to date, noting, "It's still kind of early."

But he did admit that he feels considerably better than last season. "I'm good and loose now... that's 95 percent of it, I think."

Having booted three of four attempts against the Bears, building up the Pack's early 9-0 lead, the Oklahoman now has six out of eight with a ninth blocked. And at least four of the six have been from impressive distances of 28, 37, 44, and 45 yards.

Last year, he toed 12 out of 25 longest being 47 yards. He pointed out, however, "I missed a lot last year that could just as easily have been good... just inches."

Lombardi, taking note of Chandler's efforts, cracked, "that'll make a lot of people in Green Bay sorry, won't it?"

Halas, who kept insisting that the Packers as a whole were in mid-season form, felt his team was improved over its opening misadventure against Washington because "we moved the ball better." But he smiled, "we're still at the second game stage."

The offense of both teams, muddled as it was, was topped by the operator of the stadium scoreboard Fan-O-Gram, who offered, "Welcome Governor Knowles," PA announcer Gary Knafelc dated himself a bit when he announced, after the Packers third field goal, that Green Bay was leading the Chicago Cardinals 9-0. . . . injured Packer end Bob Long spent the game in the press box spotting for Knafelc. . . . tackle Steve Wright leaves today for two weeks of army duty. . . . Jim Hall Enters Can-Am Event

200-Mile Feature Slated Sept. 3 At Road America

ELKHART LAKE (AP)—Jim Hall, one of the biggest names in sports car racing, filed the first official entry for the Canadian-American Challenge Cup opening event at Road America Sept 3.

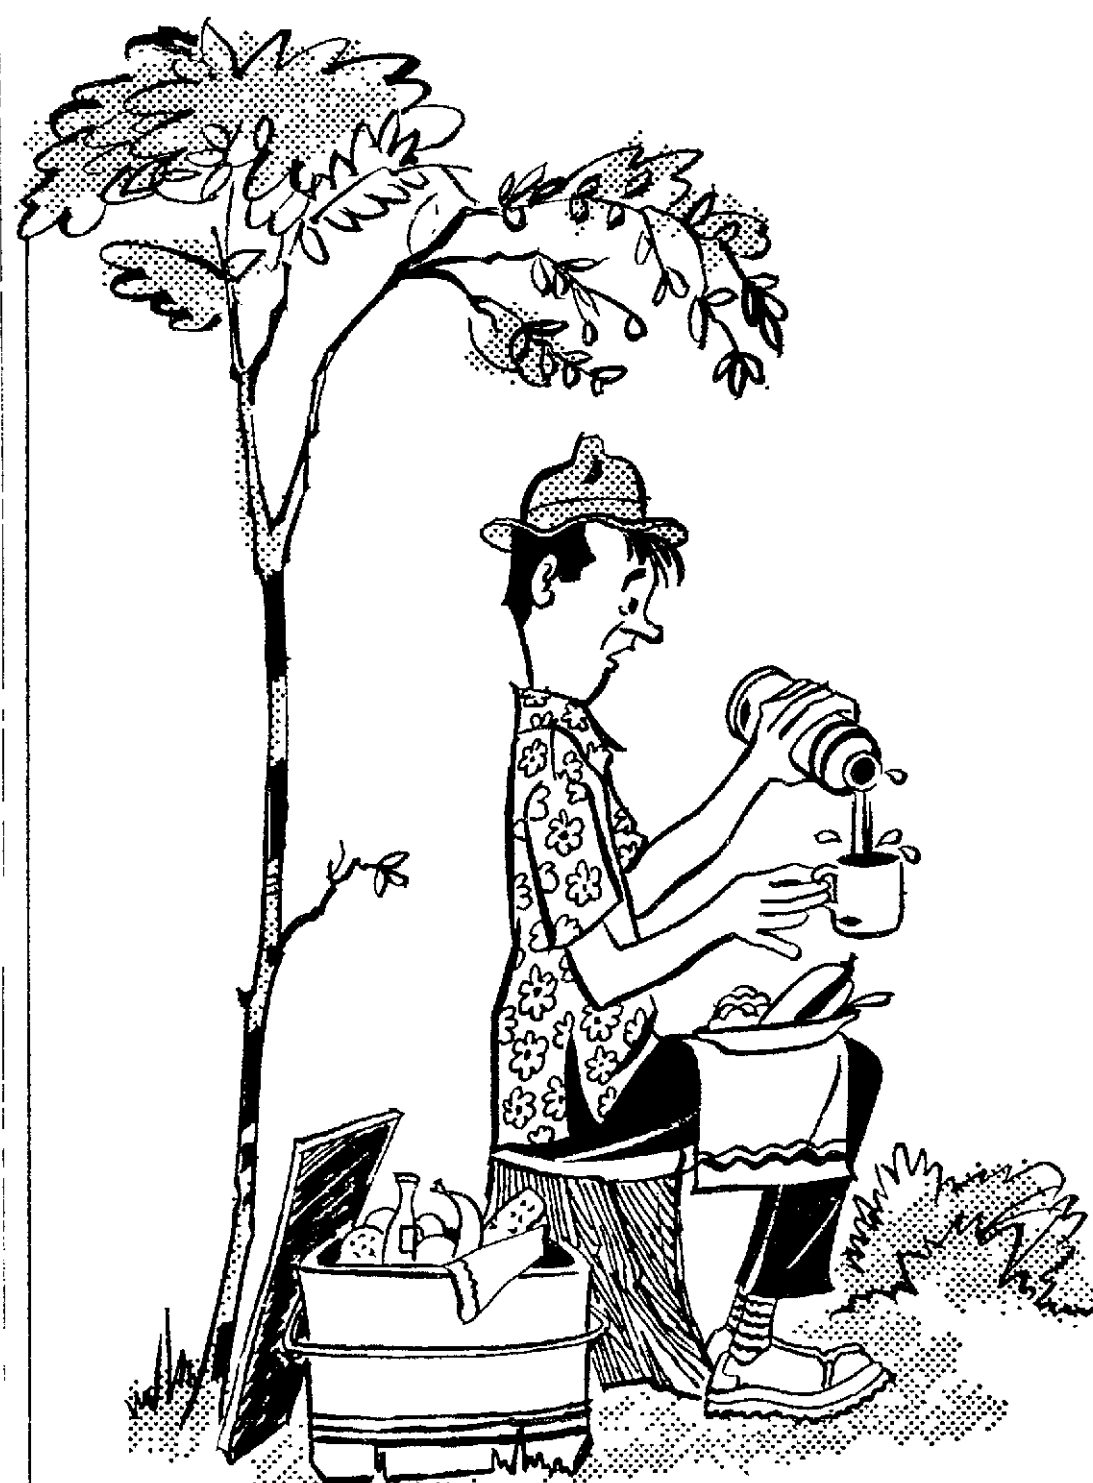

The designer, builder and driver of the famed Chaparrals, will compete in the Can-Am with his latest creation dubbed the "winged monster." It boasts a mammoth 427-cubic inch Chevy engine and sports a unique rear airfoil from which it derives its nickname.

The adjustable wing assists in slowing down the machine rapidly for corners and also prevents the car itself from being airborne at its top speeds of nearly 200 miles per hour.

The Can-Am 50-lapper of 200 miles for the fastest 38 qualifying cars will begin at 2 p.m. Sept. 3. Practice and qualifying will be held the two preceding days.

Andrews Is Sentenced For Perjury

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "I'm never surprised at anything," said an unsmiling Dean Andrews Thursday as he walked out of court, free on $2,500 bond after a judge sentenced him to 18 months for perjury.

Andrews, 44, the hip-talking self-styled "fat man" of the Kennedy assassination conspiracy probe, was convicted earlier this week of lying to the grand jury.

Despite attorneys' pleas that Andrews is in no condition to go to jail, Criminal Dist. Court Judge Frank J. Shea sentenced him to concurrent 18-month terms on each of three perjury counts and released him on bond pending appeal of the conviction.

Sentencing was delayed while defense attorney Harry Burglass questioned a prison physician about Andrews' physical condition. Andrews had been in the prison infirmary since his conviction Monday.

The doctor told Judge Shea that the 260-pound Andrews is subject to three medical conditions: Accumulation of fluids in body tissue, a bacterial blood infection and a slowing down or recombination of the heart

"Well, I think he's planning a little vacation and some rest before going back to work," his mother, Mrs. W. H. Brown, said, Thursday. "I don't think he's got too much planned. He was pretty tired and went right to bed."

Before he was drafted, Brown worked for Minneapolis-Honeywell Co. in Fort Washington, Pa. First Sgt. David Hill, of Brown's Ft. Bragg unit, said he could have been a goof-off since he was expected to be released and he knew it, but he wasn't. He did a great job."

Mix Vaudeville, Burlesque, Drama: Get 'Stooges', Farce

BY FERN SMITH

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — Take a pinch of burlesque, a shaker of vaudeville — add serious drama — and you have the Three Stooges, popular performers at Friday night's Startime Revue at the Winnebago County Fairgrounds.

Stopping by to talk with the three earlier in the day, a million things flashed brightly in anticipation of meeting the zaniest trio around. But Moe Howard and Larry Fine changed all of that in a gentle, special way of their own.

"What do you call your particular kind of comedy?" I asked the man dressed smartly in sports clothes, jauntily wearing a straw hat and hiding behind dark glasses on a gloomy Friday morning. "Farce, pure farce," Moe Howard answered quickly as he sat down after putting the orchestra through the timing for their act.

"There are folks who call what we do slapstick, but it's farce. If you take a circle," he said, accompanying his illustration by forming one with his two thumbs and forefingers, "tragedy is at the top of the circle, followed by melodrama, pure drama, comedy light comedy and farce. If you go to the right far enough, you'll be coming around left again . . . there is only a hairline between farce and tragedy."

Conversation Surprised

Surprised to hear this kind of talk from the man with the bangs who has been poling out his friend Larry's eyes for more than 35 years, on the stage, on the screen and in films, the next logical question seemed, "Why did you choose farce?"

There was no need to ask the question. Moving to the end of his chair, Moe explained. "It's alive." His interest since 1922 had been serious drama; Larry came with his violin from vaudeville and Joe, who is the third man to fill the third spot, came from burlesque 10 years ago. Put together — they spell Stogie.

On stage these men send the dialogue, the antics and the subtleties whizzing before your very eyes. They resemble having three balls in the air in a jai alai game — and the dazed effect appears to be what people like.

Looking out the window from the Raulf, Larry Fine commented, "I hope the weather is in our favor tonight." This was a cue? Perhaps, Howard answered. "What's the difference? If the people will sit out there in the rain to see us, we'll stand out there in the rain to entertain them."

Serious Drama Interest

This philosophy is born from 46 years in what Mr. Howard calls his "serious interest in drama." It is part of the explanation of why the Stooges had a 25-year contract with Columbia Pictures, which ended in 1958: why they have made more than 150 comedies and appeared in nine full-length movies in the past 30 months.

Keeping their comedy — excuse me, farce — contemporary isn't important but I asked if the short bang hair cut Mr. Howard wears was not a symbol of identity with today's young entertainers.

"These youngsters today have given me the simplest and most wonderful kind of compliment," he replied with a warm smile. "I cut my bangs in 1920 when I went into a show on a Mississippi steamboat. It reminded me of how I looked at six when my mother cut my long curls. So, you see, I set the pattern for the Beatles and the others."

"Maybe we should imitate the youngsters and let our hair grow," Fine volunteered. "I guess I could learn to play the guitar," Howard replied. "Or better yet, you play the violin," he said, pointing his finger at Fine.

"Oh, I looked at it the other day and its strings were all busted and it was a mess — let's forget it," Fine answered.

'Be Ourselves'

"I guess we'll just go on being ourselves," Howard concluded.

"You know Chaplin wants to play Hamlet and Oliver wants to be a clown — I like it like it is."

Curious to know if their cavorting has given them any injuries through the years, they quickly pictured how they put themselves in jeopardy. "Remember when you broke your ribs, Moe, when that breakaway table didn't work quite like you said it would?"

"How about you with that fountain pen stuck in your forehead?" he asked Larry.

"It was nothing, I just pulled it out, wiped off the blood and did a retake," Fine confided.

"It's really part of the fun. We were in all kinds of death traps in 'Have Rocket, Will Travel'. How about the runaway horses in that chariot we rode in 'Meet Hercules'?"

"How about the runaway, Mr. Howard?"

Best Eye Gouge

"Oh, I just steered them up a hill, so they had to slow down," he replied casually.

"I'll say this, Moe can gouge your eyes out better than anyone," Fine said, explaining he had been the object of the fast stroke since he joined with Howard in 1925. "Promptly Howard demonstrated how he struck out, with fingers bent — and it only looks like he is permanently blinding his friend."

That is one of the secrets, these men are good friends, they react to each other and are forever putting each other on. Joe, who carried around about 260 pounds, was back at his motel room nursing a cold so he could open at Friday's first show. They cooed like two good mothers. "Poor Joe, he's got to take care of himself — nurse all 260 pounds of him back to health."

The troupers leave shortly for Vancouver to complete a full length movie, which they own. Then on to Hawaii, Manila and New Zealand where they open on Jan. 16.

Are they worried about their rating in this country? Probably not. "We have a new group of fans every five years. Some of those youngsters see the same TV show 10 times, do you know that?" Howard asked.

Worried? Little cause for that, when the showmen are here because they like live audiences. "They ask for our best and express thanks when they get it — that's living," one of the sterling showmen commented.
